

Course Submission Report

Course Title : Shower Basics for Design Professionals

Course Code : CEU-106692
Expiry Date : 4/30/2020
Use of Course : Ongoing
Type of Presentation : In person

Subject Code Primary : 4. Design Specialties
Subject Code Secondary : 1. Corporate/Office

Length (Hours(s)) : 1

Course Description : This course assists architects and design professionals in understanding the characteristics and performance of shower components so that they can effectively specify shower systems for their client projects.

Intended Audience : Hospitality/Entertainment

Maximum Audience Size : 75

Degree of Interactivity : Medium

Classification of Learning levels : Basic Bibliography : https://www.epa.gov/watersense/showerheads

https://visual.ly/community/infographic/lifestyle/history-

showers

http://www.hcd.ca.gov/building-standards/calgreen/docs/HCDSHL605_2016.pdf https://www.safeplumbing.org/pmi/position-papers/showerhead-and-handheld-showers-with-lower-flow-rates

Requested Designation : General

AIA Approved : Yes

GBCI Approved : No

Prior Course Presentation Details : The Evolution of the Bathroom

Facilities and Equipment Required

Classroom seating with tables

Slide projector/screen

Internet access

Learning Objectives

Learn about the origins of showers

Identify the basic shower types

Understand the difference between pressure balance and thermostatic valves

Course Submission Report

Be able to select a shower head: review types and functions

Understand the installation, technical specifications and norms: flow rates and pressure

Review and look at future trends in showers – conservation, innovation, showering in the future

Content Outline	Duration (Minutes)
Learn about the origins of showers	10
Identify the basic shower types	10
Understand the difference between pressure balance and thermostatic valves	10
Be able to select a shower head: review types and functions	10
Understand the installation, technical specifications and norms: flow rates and pressure	10
Review and look at future trends in showers – conservation, innovation, showering in the future	10